DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. Claims 1-8 and 11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. The claims have been amended to identify the fluorochemical compound as a polymer "derived from" the polymerization of a fluorinated monomer and "a non-fluorinated compound." The specification as originally filed does not provide sufficient support for the claim limitation "a non-fluorinated compound." The portion of the specification, page 9, lines 2+, relied upon for supporting this limitation, does not support the claim language or breadth. This portion of the specification does not mention a "non-fluorinated compound" but rather a non-fluorinated comonomer having a specific structure and being ethylenically unsaturated. This portion of the specification does not support the claim language as amended.

4. Claims 1-8 and 11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.
5. The claim language "derived from" and "derivative" render the claims indefinite. It is unclear as to how far "derived from" the claimed component can be, and continue to fall within the scope of the claims. The term "derivative" has the same problem. It is unclear as to the degrees of derivation a compound may be and continue to fall within the scope of the claims.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

6. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

7. Claims 1-8 and 11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Soane et al. US 6,380,336 in view of Mauer US 5,977,228.
8. Soan et al teaches aqueous coating compositions based upon fluoropolymers as claimed. The fluorinated monomers described at column 3 lines 1+ are seen to fall within the scope of the claimed fluorinated monomer. The claimed non-fluorinated monomers are extensively disclosed at column 3 lines 36+. This patent calls for the incorporation of conventional plasticizers, see the abstract and column 2 lines 29-30. The difference between this disclosure and the claimed invention is that the patent does not specifically identify the claimed plasticizers.

9. The Mauer patent teaches very similar coating compositions and identifies conventional plasticizers for use in the compositions at column 5 lines 20-23. These are the preferred species of claimed plasticizers. One of ordinary skill would be motivated to select the plasticizers identified as conventional in Mauer for use in Soane given the reasonable expectation of the functioning of the plasticizer in the composition of Soane and the suggestion in Soane to use conventional plasticizers.

10. There remains no showing or allegation of unexpected results commensurate in scope with the claimed invention when compared to the closest prior art.
